

SYLLABUS

TRAV 1831-40 Fares and Tickets International Number of Hours: 15-25

Instructor: Angie Jensen
ajensen@dixie.edu
435-635-2927

Prerequisite: Air Reservations – U.S. domestic Air Fares – U. S. Domestic
ARC Documents

Description:

International air travel has expanded exponentially in the past decade and promises to continue to grow. This course will provide you with the skills required to meet the needs of your international air travelers. These skills include an understanding of the two basic international faring system, mileage and routing as well as currency procedures, including the use of the fictitious currency, Neutral Units of Construction. You will learn to interpret all the data found in the faring and pricing information in the CRSs and as printed on international tickets. This includes international fare basis codes, base fares, taxes, surcharges, currency codes and mileage principle coding as applicable.

Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this course, you will be able to:

- Explain the two basic faring systems used for international fares, mileage and routing
- Define international fare basis codes
- Utilize currency codes and procedures including NUCs, and the BSR
- Determine the appropriate currency conversions for the itinerary and place of issue
- Identify routing fares and mileage fares as shown on any typical fare display
- Interpret international fare and rule displays and quote fares and explain rules to clients
- Interpret fare calculation lines with routing-based fares and with mileage fares
- Interpret all data found in international tickets

Grading Criteria: Successful completion of all Reviews, and the Exam.

Course Outline: Each lesson includes an online Review.

Lesson 1	International Fares Overview
Lesson 2	Routing-Based Fares
Lesson 3	Mileage Fares

Lesson 4	International Ticketing
Exam

Course Activities and Assignments:

Maximum time to complete this course is 90 days. There are 4 Reviews and one exam, each review is extensive. While the emphasis of this course is the interpretation of information and procedures, you will have the opportunity to practice such things as currency conversion. A review completed every one to two weeks is a good strategy to complete the course in a timely manner, and to solidify your new skills.

Dmail Notice.

Important class and college information will be sent to your Dmail email account. This information includes your DSC bill, financial aid/scholarship notices, notification of dropped classes, reminders of important dates and events, and other information critical to your success in this class and at DSC. All DSC students are automatically assigned a Dmail account. If you do not know your user name and password, go to www.dixie.edu and select "Dmail," for complete instructions. You will be held responsible for information sent to your Dmail, so please check it often.

Reasonable Accommodation Statement.

If you are a student with a medical, psychological or a learning difference and are requesting reasonable academic accommodations due to this disability, you must provide an official request of accommodation to your professor(s) from the Disability Resource Center (located in the Student Services Center, Room #201 of the Edith Whitehead Building) within the first two weeks of the beginning of classes. Students are to contact the Center on the main campus to follow through with and receive assistance in the documentation process to determine the appropriate accommodations related to their disability. You may call (435) 652-7516 for an appointment and further information regarding the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 per Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.